1.5 Objective

1.5.1 The main objective of the Workshop was to assist States with the implementation of the ICAO English language proficiency requirements.

The Workshop provided an opportunity to:

- review the ICAO language proficiency provisions and remind stakeholders of their roles in implementing them;
- hear about States' challenges in implementing the Language Proficiency Requirements (LPRs);
- review tools, trends and status of ICAO LPRs implementation in the Asia-Pacific, European/North-Atlantic and Middle East Regions; and
- disseminate information on implementation tools to expedite compliance with ICAO LPRs.

II. SUMMARY AND OUTCOME OF DISCUSSIONS

2.1 The Workshop acknowledged that:

- The LPRs are safety critical and their effective implementation should continue to be supported by States.
- ICAO continue to monitor the implementation of LPRs through the USOAP-CMA and should consider developing additional ELP related Protocol Questions (PQs).
- While progress has been made in the aviation language testing and training domains, this industry remains unregulated.
- The implementation of aviation language testing and training best practices in accordance with ICAO Document 9835 are key for the successful implementation of the LPRs.
- Continue the implementation of aviation language testing and training best practices in accordance with ICAO Document 9835, and Assembly Resolution A38-8.

2.2 Based on the above the workshop have identified the following outcomes:

- Licenses should be endorsed based on ICAO recognized tests.
- Need to enhance States' safety oversight capabilities related to LPRs implementation, including through iHELPP and training of concerned regulators' staff .
- Regulators should maintain regular contact with the Test Service Providers.
- ICAO to consider inclusion of ELP related procedures in the PANS Training document (Doc 9868), as appropriate.
- ICAO to consider developing additional ELP (testing) related Protocol Questions (PQs) within the USOPA CMA framework.
- Based on identified requirements (safety case), ICAO to consider the development of provisions related to ELP for other aviation safety related disciplines (e.g. AIM, MET, firefighting, flight attendants, ground staff).
- Cooperation and sharing of information, sharing of resources at regional/sub-regional level to be encouraged.
- ICAO ELP training material (i.e. sound samples) to be used and further developed, including the development of a Computer Based Training (CBT).

III. CLOSING

3.1 In closing Mr. Khonji thanked the participants for their presence and expressed his gratitude to Kuwait DGCA for the excellent arrangements and outstanding hospitality.

3.2 The participants recognized the usefulness and success of the workshop; they expressed their thanks to ICAO for organizing such a fruitful interregional workshop and encouraged the organisation of similar interregional events in the future.
