

Resolving the challenges of aviation growth through technical cooperation and assistance.

Focused around the theme of Building Cooperation for the Future of Civil Aviation: Innovation, Growth, and Technical Co-operation, ICAO's first-ever Global Aviation Cooperation Symposium will provide a central platform for discussions of key issues, the exchange of information and views on latest trends and innovations, and the sharing of best practices supporting a safe and efficient future for global air transport.

This event will provide governments, airport operators, air navigation service providers and other industry stakeholders with a unique opportunity to obtain in-depth knowledge of ICAO guidance, as well as the role and resources of its Technical Co-operation Programme.

For more information, please contact GACS@icao.int or visit: www.icao.int/GACS

ICAO

TECHNICAL CO-OPERATION

“Building Cooperation for the Future of Civil Aviation: Innovation, Growth, and Technical Co-operation”

Meet and greet with high-level decision makers and learn about the latest safety and security strategies, challenges facing ICAO Member States, technological trends, and future opportunities, including:

- How ICAO’s Technical Co-operation Programme assists its Member States.
- Responses to shared Aviation Safety and Security deficiencies found through ICAO audits.
- New Air Navigation technology trends and the facilitation of Air Navigation Systems.
- Airport Management strategies and industry best practices.
- What the future holds for aviation economic growth and development.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

- Civil Aviation Authorities and ICAO Member States
- Airport Operators and Government Bodies
- Air Navigation Service Providers
- Aviation Industry Partners and Associations
- Industry Experts and Other International Organizations

SPONSORSHIP/EXHIBITOR OPPORTUNITIES

The Symposium will offer exhibitors the opportunity to showcase their products and services and enhance the awareness and visibility of their organization by sponsoring one of the many hospitality events.

In addition, the exhibition will bring together renowned international construction, equipment and supplier companies so that they may promote their businesses and establish new contacts.

REGISTER NOW!

Via email at:

GACS@icao.int

Or on the event website at:

www.icao.int/GACS