

Herbert Fung

DIRECTOR (BUSINESS AND ECONOMICS), COMPETITION COMMISSION OF SINGAPORE (CCS)

Herbert Fung is Director (Business and Economics) at the Competition Commission of Singapore (CCS), where he supervised a range of cases including SISTIC's abuse of dominance, the Singapore Medical Association Guidelines of Fees, the blocked merger between Parkway and Radlink, and the alliance between Qantas and Emirates Airlines. Prior to joining CCS in 2008, he was Senior Economic Advisor at the Office of Telecommunications Authority in Hong Kong, and before that, Associate (Equity Research) at Credit Suisse. Herbert graduated with a dual-degree in economics and statistics from the University of Chicago, and holds a post-graduate diploma in EU Competition Law from King's College London