Our local and international organization partners,

Distinguished guests, ladies and gentlemen, a very pleasant afternoon to all of you.

Allow me to express my heartfelt gratitude to you all for taking the time to join the 15th CAPSCA-Asia Pacific Meeting and for honoring us with your active participation for these past 2 days.

To all our presenters, thank you for imparting your knowledge and sharing your expertise on several relevant and interesting topics, as well as to all those who shared their experience and lessons learned from the COVID-19 pandemic. It was indeed a productive discussions as reflected in several recommendations and conclusions as presented earlier.

We can see from the resulting recommendations the value of a closer and improved coordination, collaboration, cooperation and communication between and among aviation and public health sectors, and finding the right balance for a more resilient aviation sector.

As we end today, let me again thank you for all your contributions to make the 15th CAPSCA Meeting a success and my very special thanks to all my colleagues in the Civil Aviation Authority of the Philippines who have worked on this event and provided all the support.

Until the next CAPSCA-Asia Pacific Meeting.

Again, Congratulations and may you all enjoy the rest of your stay in Manila.
