ICAO APAC Idea Generation Workshop: CRV Governance
Tuesday, 31 January 2023 (1 day)

Theme – To highlight the significance and necessity of an effective Common aeronautical Virtual Private Network (CRV) governance for supporting the Asia/Pacific (APAC) Member States and deliberate its effectiveness and an approach for its enhancement.

Outline – The full-day workshop aims to highlight the importance and necessity of an effective CRV governance to support APAC Member States to handle any issues/matters that arise in the future related to CRV more effectively. Additionally, the effectiveness of current CRV governance and improvements required for better management of CRV will be deliberated.

In the first session, the workshop will be supported by ICAO EUR/NAT and SAM Regional Office by providing a series of presentations about the European regional network (the New Pan-European Network Service (New PENS)) governance and South American regional network (REDDIG II) governance. Both regional networks' governance experiences and configurations will aid CRV experts in generating ideas for CRV governance modifications for its improvement. Additionally, the current CRV governance will be presented by ICAO APAC Regional Office.

In the second session, Member States are encouraged to brainstorm to discuss the efficiency and effectiveness of current CRV governance and, if required, propose the modified structures based on the experiences shared in the first session and ideas generated in the brainstorming session. The workshop will conclude with a summary of ideas deliberated and various options proposed for CRV OG/11 consideration by preparing a working paper to be presented to the CRV OG/11 meeting. _
