Your Guide to APAC-MC | भारत 2024

In 2024, the Asia Pacific's aviation market, stands on the brink of transformation, poised for rapid growth recovering from the pandemic. With a projected quadrupling of capacity and an impressive 8% annual growth rate, including an 8.3% surge in cargo, it is set to become the fastest-growing commercial aviation market in the next two decades. While travel patterns are reverting to their pre-pandemic vigor, business aviation is also experiencing a remarkable resurgence. However, challenges of limited infrastructure persist. Yet, amidst these challenges, the years ahead are brimming with anticipation and excitement due to visionary investments in tourism and aviation infrastructure across nations. Join us on this exhilarating journey towards limitless possibilities and boundless horizons.
