AIR Lab

Since its inception in 2019, AIR Lab has been at the forefront of driving innovation in air traffic management. Through the development of cutting-edge projects and proof-of-concepts, AIR Lab accelerates research of innovative solutions that address the region's ATM challenges. These initiatives aim to create a more seamless ATM experience by enabling safe and secure information exchange between ANSPs and other aviation stakeholders, harnessing AI to optimize operations or exploring solutions to tackle pressing environmental concerns, such as reducing CO2 emissions and fuel consumption, making ATM not only more efficient but also more sustainable.

The future of ATM lies in collaboration, innovation, and an open approach to integrating new technologies.
