

Darryl Brile currently serves as the Senior Advisor for International Affairs and Modernization in the United States Department of State, Office of Passport Services, located in Washington, D.C. In this role, Darryl is Passport Services' primary liaison on international issues related to U.S. passport policy, travel document design and security, identity management strategy, border authority engagement, and International Civil Aviation Organization (ICAO) standards. He is the chair of the ICAO Technical Advisory Group on the Traveler Identification Program (TAG/TRIP) and a member of the ICAO Public Key Directory Board, and represents the United States in TAG/TRIP working groups on new technologies and implementation and capacity building.

Darryl joined the U.S. Department of State in 2001 and has previously held key leadership positions in U.S. passport field operations and on digital transformation teams responsible for improving travel document systems and implementing strategic organizational change to passport issuance processes.