

Mr. Henrik Ellermann is the Permanent Representative of Denmark on the ICAO Council and the Head of the Nordic Delegation.

With over 25 years of senior-level experience, Mr. Ellermann contributed to several Danish public institutions, including the Ministry of Defence, the Ministry of Environment, and the Ministry of Food, Agriculture and Fisheries. For the past six years, he has served as Head of Division at the Danish Civil Aviation and Railway Authority¹. In this role, he has managed a team of more than 50 staff members, overseeing critical domains such as aerodromes, flight crew licensing, medical certification, environment, and international legal coordination.

Mr. Ellermann has solid practical experience with ICAO processes. He participated in three ICAO Assemblies, attended the CAAF/3 conference in Dubai in 2023, and has been an active participant in numerous ICAO meetings and events. Additionally, he is a member of EASA's Management Advisory Body and the EASA Committee, which has provided him with valuable insights into European aviation policy and regulation.

Mr. Ellermann's career began in the Royal Danish Navy, where he completed officer training and served in various operational and staff positions, including as aide-de-camp to the Minister of Defence and completed the French senior staff course at Collège Interarmée de Défense in Paris. To further enhance his leadership capabilities, he pursued executive education at INSEAD in France.

Henrik Ellermann has been rewarded Knight of the royal Order of Dannebrog.

Mr. Ellermann is regarded as an open-minded, result-oriented person who builds strong relationships and networks. These attributes are essential in the collaborative environment of ICAO.

¹ The Danish CAA is the authority in the Kingdom of Denmark which includes Denmark, Greenland and the Faroe Islands.