

Safety Recommendation – Australia - 31-Dec-17

The ATSB recognizes that ICAO has developed technical standards for lightweight recorders and airborne image recorders. However, despite the known benefits for the identification of safety issues, the fitment of such devices for passenger-carrying aircraft with a maximum TOW less than 5,700 kg is not mandated. The ATSB recommends that ICAO takes safety action to consider the safety enhancement of these devices to passenger-carrying operations.
