

Safety Recommendation – Russian Federation - 19-03-2016

Consider the advisability of appointing a working group to study matters of crewmembers losing the ability to work in a psychological sense and to develop appropriate recommendations to provide methodological help to States and airline companies in drafting and approving a flight operations manual (FOM).