

Safety Recommendation

It is recommended that ICAO define the minimum English language proficiency requirements to understand aircraft manufacturer's documents or English-language materials used for flight crew training and flight operations.