

Safety Recommendation (FRAN-2013-046)

ICAO extend the provisions of Annex 10 to include the go-around phase by requiring that, unless required for imperative safety reasons, no transmissions are made to an aircraft during a missed approach manoeuvre, as long as the crew have not indicated that they are available again.