

ICAO TRAINING Magazine

NEWS AND FEATURES ON CIVIL AVIATION RELATED TRAINING DEVELOPMENTS

ICAO has an important role in ensuring that the civil aviation community and Member States have access to a pool of qualified professionals to support safe, secure and sustainable development of air transport. Its role in global and regional aviation developments makes the ICAO Training Report a must-read publication for the 191 Contracting States which frequently request information on new training standards and learning technologies.

Topics Covered

Each ICAO Training Report issue focuses on key areas of ICAO and industry activity, creating targeted audiences for your product and service offerings in areas including but not limited to:

- Civil Aviation training figures and trends;
- Global, regional and national initiatives to address the lack of qualified technical personnel;
- Regulations and their role in building effective and efficient training;
- New learning technologies and training methods for the next generation of aviation professionals (NGAPs); and
- Response to emerging training issues and challenges.

Take advantage of the ICAO Training Report's unmatched ability to highlight your aviation training centre, your new learning technologies or most recent training achievements. Increase your global presence with the ICAO Training Report Magazine.
