Measuring Air Connectivity – Recent Trends and Implications for Air Transport Policy

Air connectivity is central to delivering the economic and social benefits of aviation, plugging countries and communities into a global network for exchanging goods, services and ideas. IATA will present its latest analysis of air connectivity, highlighting recent trends as well as expectations for the future. Building on this analysis, the key question for Governments and policy-makers relates to the potential to influence air connectivity outcomes.

9:00 – 12:30

Updates on the Implementation of the Single African Air Transport Market (SAATM)

The Single African Air Transport Market (SAATM) launched in January 2018, is a flagship project of the African Union Agenda 2063, an initiative of the African Union to create a single unified air transport market in Africa to advance the liberalization of civil aviation in Africa and to act as an impetus to the continent's economic integration agenda. To date, 28 States have signed up to the SAATM. As part of its efforts to promote the implementation of SAATM, the African Civil Aviation Commission (AFCAC) is organizing a special workshop/event during this year's ICAN. The event will focus on:

- Presentation of the revised ATNS video on SAATM - (AFCAC)
- Power Point presentation on Update on SAATM - (AFCAC)
- Brief Remarks by the AUC and AFRAA
- Signing of the Memorandum of Implementation (MoI) –(AU/AFCAC)

Good Regulatory Practices in Regulatory Processes

In recent years the business community, including the airlines industry, has called for governments to improve their practices in policy design and rule-making process. In response, a number of States have adopted some Good Regulatory Practices designed to improve policy making and the regulatory process and to reduce unnecessary burdens on consumers and businesses.

The joint ICAO and IATA interactive workshop is designed to educate participants on the principles of Good Regulatory Practices.
