

Biography:

Hélio Paes de Barros Júnior

Director of the National Civil Aviation Agency - Brazil, Hélio Paes de Barros Júnior joined the Air Force in 1969. He acted in several areas and retired as Chief of Staff from Brazilian Air Force.

He attended courses with special emphasis in Mathematics, with a concentration in Information Systems, at Federal University of Rio de Janeiro - UFRJ, Aviation Management, at Metropolitan State College in the United States of America and Professional Aviation Management at McGill University in Canada. Operationally, he is a group leader in Fighter Aviation.

Throughout his career, he has received 37 badges of honour.

In civil aviation, he served in the former Civil Aviation Department (DAC), where he was Deputy Chief of Information Technology, Chief of Operations Subdepartment, Chief of Air Services Subdepartment and had acted as airlines and inspector pilot.