Dear Sir/Madam,

During the 40th Session of the ICAO Assembly, Member States adopted Resolution A40-27, Aviation Innovation, which recognizes that innovations have significant potential to improve aviation safety, efficiency, security, protection, facilitation, environmental sustainability and economic development of air transport. Innovations can also lead to more efficient and streamlined aviation regulatory processes.

In this regard, prior to the 41st Session of the Assembly, ICAO will organize the Innovation Fair 2022 "Innovation to improve resilience in international civil aviation", from 24 to 26 September 2022, for which it seeks to identify improvements in aviation thanks to innovation for the NAM/CAR and SAM Regions. That said, the NACC and SAM Regional Offices invite your organization/administration to participate in the Webinar "Aviation Innovation for the NAM/CAR/SAM Regions", which will be held virtually on 9 September 2022, from 10AM at 12 PM, local time in Mexico. The provisional agenda is attached.

The Webinar aims to venture into the following topics:

1. Innovation as a tool of air navigation services for the development of sustainable aviation.
2. The implementation of technical and operational improvements within the States that promote innovation.
3. Technological innovation in aviation security processes.

The Webinar is for experts in all areas of aviation, since the information that will be provided during the webinar will enrich the work of all areas. The working languages will be English and Spanish and simultaneous interpretation services will be provided. In this sense, please register before 5 September 2022 through this link:
